

Xth COURSE ON MORPHOLOGICAL AND FUNCTIONAL ULTRASOUND OF PELVIC FLOOR.
3rd March 2023

University Hospital Mútua Terrassa. Terrassa. SPAIN

Pelvic floor ultrasound is the most emerging imaging technique in recent years in the study of pelvic floor dysfunctions, both for its safety and its usefulness.

Our group, faithful to its teaching trajectory, offers you this tenth edition of the Course on Morphological and Functional Pelvic Floor Ultrasound.

After the last two editions, on this occasion we wanted to return to face-to-face sessions for three fundamental reasons: to recover the dynamism of live debates, to be able to exchange doubts with you at any time during the course and to enjoy human contact again without the intermediation of a screen. Despite this, and aware of the difficulties that sometimes arise from being able to travel, we have designed this edition also for those who cannot attend in person, recording the entire course and allowing online access to it for a month.

This edition will feature highly experienced speakers and will take place on the 3rd of March. The course has been structured in such a way that both the theoretical concepts, based on the lectures, and the practical ones, through the analysis of clinical cases and live ultrasound scans, can be correctly integrated. The section on clinical cases with interactive voting and live discussion by modules seems to us to be a useful initiative for daily practice as well as educational.

We believe that with this format the objectives of the course will be achieved, which are: to spread the use of ultrasound, to improve the diagnostic process and to perfect the technique.

This is a very special edition for us as it is our tenth. We are preparing it with the same enthusiasm and desire to disseminate knowledge as with the first one. The repeated requests for training that we receive in the unit encourage us to continue trying to promote the training of professionals interested in this subject.

We hope that the course will meet your needs and expectations, we will do our best to achieve it.
